Council looks into cause of busway crash

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN INVESTIGATION has been launched after a bus crashed into a wooden fence on the Luton Dunstable Busway.

On Wednesday afternoon the vehicle left the guideway and hit a fence next to the lane going towards Luton.

A spokeswoman for the East of England ambulance service said a man suffered back pain, while one woman had discomfort in her neck and another to her hip.

Bedfordshire Police said an elderly woman and a teenager were among those injured.

Luton council said it had already inspected the scene and would bring together other agencies as part of the investigation.

Emergency services were called to the scene at around 2.06pm on Wednesday after receiving reports that a vehicle had left the guideway and crashed into a fence between the White Lion Retail Park and Dunstable College in Dunstable.

At the time a spokesman for the authority said: "It appears

SMASH: Three people were injured after a bus collided with a fence that a bus has left the busway and that two people have suffered what are thought to be minor injuries. There is a recovery vehicle at the scene."

An eyewitness claimed the bus had been heading towards the college when 'it mounted the rail, crossed onto the opposite rail, smashed through two signs, and ended up in a fence'.

This week's collision is the latest in a string of incidents that have happened on the busway since it opened last year.

Last month Luton council placed an electronic sign at the entrance of the busway in response to motorists who kept getting stuck on the guideway.

A spokesman for the authority said: "The council has already inspected the accident scene and together with the bus operator begun studying CCTV footage which will also be made available to Bedfordshire Police to assist with its inquiries."

"On receipt of the police accident report Luton Borough Council will bring together all the relevant agencies in order to consider any learning from this incident and take forward any necessary measures."

The controversial busway opened last September after a series of delays during its construction.

Negotiations are currently underway with the contractor BAM Nuttall to determine how much money will be spent on meeting the extra construction costs.

A council report published last year said initial costs had risen from £51.6m to a 'target cost' of £55.7m.

Bus accident is latest in a series of incidents

BY CARL MUNGAZI
 carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

WEDNESDAY'S accident in Dunstable was the latest in a series of incidents on the £91m busway since it opened last September.

Last month Luton council installed an electronic sign at the entrance on New Bedford Road after vehicles kept driving on to the guideway.

However, last week another vehicle had to be removed from the busway after getting stuck.

Other incidents include a car which crashed into the wooden fence near the Clifton Way bus stop last November.

In the same month breakdown company, RAC, called for better signage on the busway.

Luton council said that there was 'no excuse' for motorists driving on to the guideway, an offence which can lead to legal action resulting in a criminal record and a fine of up to £1,000.

On Friday, Councillor Dave Taylor said it was too early for the authority to pin-point the cause of the accident on Wednesday.

He said: "It's difficult to specify what the cause of the crash was at this moment in time. It's fortunate there were only minor injuries."

The busway has split opinion in the town since it opened last September

BBC REVEALS PLANS TO MOVE

THE BBC has put in a planning application to have a unit in Grove Park, Dunstable changed into a broadcasting studio.
 A spokeswoman for the public broadcaster said the building lease for its Three Counties Radio station in Luton, which has 37 full-time and part-time staff, was due to expire.
 The application, made to Central Bedfordshire Council, seeks to have Unit 4 in Grove Park turned into a broadcast studio with two studios, an operations room, a newsroom, a TV area, and a band area, creative working and staff area.
 A BBC spokeswoman said: "The current building lease of BBC Three Counties Radio in Luton is due to expire, so other options are being explored."

Federation report handed over to the police

POLICE are currently looking at government reports following an inquiry at Barnfield Federation, it has been revealed.

A spokesperson for the Department for Education (DfE) said an investigation by the Skills Funding Agency (SFA) and the Education Funding Agency (EFA) into the Federation had now been concluded and the reports passed on to Hertfordshire police.

The reports will not be published until officers have finished with them. They are currently assessing whether a crime has been committed.

In October last year the DfE and SFA announced a joint-investigation after it 'received allegations' made against Barnfield College and the Federation.

A government spokesperson said: "A joint Skills Funding Agency and Education Funding Agency investigation was launched last year following serious allegations relating to financial irregularities and governance at the Barnfield Federation.
 "This investigation has now concluded and the reports have been passed to the police.

"The police have advised us not to publish the reports until they have concluded their assessment. It would be inappropriate to comment further at this stage."

Earlier this week BBC Three Counties radio claimed a leaked SFA report was critical of the Federation's management structure and also said that the college claimed money for students it could not account for. The college is not commenting.

DAMAGE: Luton council said 20 trees fell as a result of the high winds and heavy rain that battered the town last weekend. The Met Office said this winter had been the wettest on record since 1910

Fears over trees following storms

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

RESIDENTS are concerned more trees could fall after one came down on a vehicle during last weekend's storm.

A pine tree fell on top of a van in Rotherham Avenue, Luton, last Saturday morning (Feb 15) following rain and strong winds overnight.

Zac Hustins, 51, who lives in the street, said residents are concerned other trees in the area could fall, and has called on Luton council to cut down those remaining.

He said: "Four years ago they chopped about seven trees similar to this one and then we asked them to chop down the remaining five."

"That was the concern of the residents. This one fell over the weekend and there's one next to it which will be very weak so it's just a matter of time before it falls."

Mr Hustins also claimed that he had been told by a council worker that some trees in the area had been planted in unsuitable soil.

The council said 20 trees fell during last weekend's storm.

A spokeswoman for the authority said the trees in Rotherham Avenue were not considered unsuitable as they were native to the Chilterns and had been inspected last December.

She added: "The pine that fell showed no defects indicating it might come down."

"Two other trees in the road are to be scheduled for general maintenance as a medium priority from April."

She added that the van owner had been advised on how to make an insurance claim.

DISCOVERY: Police found weapons, cocaine and cannabis

Cannabis factory found after search

A MAN was arrested and bailed after the discovery of a cannabis factory. Special Constabulary officers executed a search warrant on Wednesday evening in Connaught Road. They found cannabis, as well as a bag containing what is thought to be cocaine and various weapons. Afterwards, a 27-year-old man at the address was arrested on suspicion of cultivating cannabis and possession of a class A drug. He has since been released on police bail.

Authority agrees council tax rise

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

COUNCIL tax will increase by 1.5 per cent from April after the rise was agreed during a meeting this week.

On Wednesday, councillors voted to raise tax levels during a meeting when the budget for 2014/15 was passed.

The increase will see the average bill for people living in a band B property go up by just over £14 per year, or 27p a week.

During the meeting, Cllr Tom Shaw, the acting portfolio holder for finance, said the council would still give a tax discount to residents 'who most need it'.

He added: "We are told now that we are the only council in the south of England still doing this, protecting the vulnerable people in the town. I think it's well worth carrying on doing that."

Luton council said it has had to make cuts of £54 million over the past three years and was expecting to lose a further £52 million from its budget between 2015-19.

On Wednesday councillors also voted against a recommended decrease in their basic allowance from £7,500 down to £7,000.

The move was criticised by Liberal Democrat leader David Franks who said it was 'sad' the allowances could not be lowered as a 'gesture' towards residents. Last year councillors also voted against a decrease in their allowances but four councillors took a voluntary cut.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services. Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.' Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.' So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

DNA on glove helps to jail prolific burglar

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A BURGLAR has been jailed after a dropped glove at a crime scene provided police with his full DNA profile.

Wayne Pelle, 37, from London, was unanimously found guilty at Luton Crown Court on Wednesday for the aggravated burglary of a family home in Denbigh Road, Luton, on April 28, 2011.

He was sentenced to 12 years in prison.

Pelle was also sentenced to a further two years, to be served consecutively, for nine offences of burglary from various Co-op Stores in Birdsfoot Lane, Luton (three charges); Wigmore Lane, Luton; Katherine Drive, Dunstable; St Dominics Square, Luton; Flitwick; Lower Luton Road in Harpenden and Lowther Road in Caddington.

He had previously pleaded guilty to these offences on Wednesday, November 27.

At the time of the Denbigh Road offence, Bedfordshire Police conducted a wide appeal for information from the public to help identify those responsible. The incident happened at about 12.50am on Thursday, April 28, 2011 after four men had kicked open the door of the property to gain entry.

The men demanded money and gold before assaulting the two occupants, aged 21 and 30.

Both victims suffered cuts and bruising but did not require hospital treatment.

The court heard that during the forensic search of the property officers recovered a glove which after examination revealed Pelle's DNA profile.

After sentence was passed, investigating officer, Detective Constable Nicole McCaffrey, said: "The offenders involved in the aggravated burglary were armed with an imitation firearm and knife which they used to threaten the victims before assaulting them."

"Both victims were put in fear for their lives and I hope the sentencing today will not only give them some reassurance but will enable them to move on from this ordeal."

She continued: "Pelle was caught after his DNA was found on a glove which officers had recovered from the scene and although Pelle has now been sentenced to a total of 14 years we are still seeking information relating to the other three men who were also responsible for the aggravated burglary."

Anyone with information should contact Detective Constable Nicole McCaffrey, in confidence, on 01582 394281, or Bedfordshire Police on 101, or text information to 07786 200011.

Calls for sea defences have been ignored

SIR - WHY is the electorate surprised that we have regular flood damage in this country?

For many years the established political parties have put other agendas before this island's defences.

All coastal areas that should have had sea defences built years ago haven't and any ideas of reclaiming the sea for defence or other uses in our dwindling living spaces have been ignored and even scoffed at unlike other countries like the Netherlands.

Rivers and lakes that need constant dredging are neglected, along with the regular non-maintenance of town and road side ditches and drains. Many are left to gradually fill with sludge or become overgrown with vegetation or to eventually collapse.

Why is this? Well, it is not just the 'green lobby', those that worship nature but neglect mankind who hold great influence in politics, that have persuaded governments to be inactive towards the environment rather than to carry out their duty in protecting us from it when needed.

FLOOD: Much of Britain has been affected by the heavy rain seen over the past months

All the ruling powers over the years have been on a course of their own since after the war, that requires much time, planning, creating and the use of much of the state's resources, especially money.

Resources such as taxes are directed firstly towards cities and towns.

What is this crusade of theirs that eclipses all others, even the great need for flood defences? These plans of theirs are known to aggravate flooding, as it involves house building and a lot of concreting over of our once green and pleasant land.

It is the creation by over populating this island by mass immigration to create and encourage the 'wonderful diversity' of a multi-cultural state. Using our money for the defence of flooding from sea or rain is looked upon as less important by our so called governments than giving our taxes to the EU and other organisations that support multi-culturalism.

The political well off elite out on an ego trip, to make them feel good, have even now made it a UK statute of law that we plebs must have a certain amount of our taxes paid towards foreign aid each year, no matter what, even if money is needed for emergencies in our own country, such as for floods and sea defences... so much for giving freely to charity!

Foreign aid is now just another tax for us mugs in Britain to pay into, along with bolstering the multi-cultural state.

So voters, carry on voting for such politicians and their parties at Britain's peril!

Well done to Shelby!

SIR - I JUST wanted to write and say how inspired I felt by Shelby Gallagher ('Shelby faces weight concerns on TV show', LoS 16/2/2014.)

I watched Shelby on Supersize vs Superskinny last week and thought how genuine and friendly she seemed, but it wasn't until I read your article that I realised that she was from Luton.

While lots is made of the obesity epidemic in this country and losing weight, it appears that maybe those who are underweight aren't taken as seriously, which is worrying.

Well done to Shelby for taking her concerns to the programme makers and getting some advice and support. I think her plan to go into schools and speak to young girls is a great idea.

Congratulations on your progress Shelby, and best wishes to you and your family.

Lisa Peters,
Luton

Do we dare to dream

SIR - WHAT a turnaround that has been achieved at Luton Town by John Still and the team.

While us Hatters fans have become very realistic and try not to get too ahead of ourselves, when you are sitting eight points clear at the top of the league with a 22 game unbeaten run, it does start to get pretty difficult!

The 7-0 win over Hereford on Saturday was absolutely sensational. Getting the goals is great, but what is more pleasing is the whole team performance.

I can only speak as an outsider, but there seems to be a real team spirit at the club this season, and that fight and desire to do well for the club is plain to see.

Finally all the fans are onside, the boo-ers have been silenced. The support this year has been incredible.

Could this be the year? I certainly hope so. Come on you Hatters!

Mark Bennett,
High Town, Luton

Tickets were a farce

SIR - I COULD not believe what I was reading regarding Victoria Street in Dunstable (LoS 16/2/14)

Anyone could see that there were severe roadworks ongoing in the area which meant that people could not park in the authorised parking bays.

Yes, maybe the motorists should not have parked on the single yellow lines but there were clearly exceptional circumstances. If I had paid for a parking permit to park in my own road and then the bays were dug up, I'm sure I would have done the same.

I agree that some discretion should have been used, but whoever was dishing out these tickets must just have seen pound signs and how much money could have been made.

Fresh call for adopters

SIR - There are around 90,000 children in care across the UK, 6,000 of whom need to be adopted. However, there is a desperate shortage of both adopters and foster carers.

Thousands more people are needed to give these vulnerable children a secure and loving home and Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT) adopters and foster carers are welcomed.

Through our work at the British Association for Adoption & Fostering (BAAF) we know that members of the LGBT community make fantastic parents and that children in their care flourish. This is why BAAF is supporting LGBT Adoption & Fostering Week (March 3-9) which is run by New Family Social.

People from all walks of life are welcome. You can be single or in a relationship; you don't have to own your own home and you don't need to be under 40!

If you think you could give a vulnerable child or children a loving and supportive family life please visit <http://www.lgbtadoptionfosterweek.org.uk>.

SIR - News that Robert Redford has directed a movie about a building named after Polio vaccine developer Jonas Salk is a timely reminder that while Polio touched the lives of millions, including stars like Redford, the sting in the tale is the late effects of Polio and Post Polio Syndrome (PPS), developed by thousands of ordinary people in the UK who remain in need of support.

Redford had a brush with Polio aged 11 and he is not alone. For 75 years The British Polio Fellowship has been supporting people and it's easy to forget Salk's vaccine was an event of global significance in the fight for Polio eradication.

Redford's Cathedrals of Culture film reminds us Polio has been part of human culture for so long, it is our history and sadly, remains a living one.

Fortunately, The British Polio Fellowship is here. For Polio survivors facing PPS, to those in the Asian community living with Polio, we are a call or a click away.

E DUCATION is teaching our children to desire the right things. Plato said that. It is time to tear down the Berlin Wall between state and private education. Michael Gove said that.

Mr Gove believes it is wrong only the wealthy get the best education and therefore the best life opportunities. If true I agree with him. But I do not believe it to be true. At least the first bit.

In a recent article he quoted the England cricket team, the Guardian, the BBC and British boardrooms as being dominated by the wealthy, privately educated. On the first he is not right, as non-English players outnumbered the privately educated. So perhaps we need to relax immigration and citizenship to improve cricket.

As for the other three, it has little to do with talent and all about who you know and which tie you wore. It is hard to think of a worse example of the wrong kind of elitism than the BBC, and if intelligence is a requirement to sit on boards, how come so many MPs are on them? And as for the Guardian, confusing wisdom with verbosity is a natural mistake for politicians.

The issue here is not about the best education but about conformity. I remember when awarded my first degree, at the OU, very down-market, I could choose either a BA or a BSc. A colleague and educationist from Cambridge, was visibly disgusted when I chose the science degree, as all proper people would have chosen arts.

Time for education to be taken out of politics

Yet one thing Cambridge is short of at the moment are engineers to work in the myriad high-tech industries.

Reciting the classics in Latin is very useful for after dinner parties but does not pay the bills. Other countries are moving ahead of us because they teach what they need to progress and prosper. We teach what we need to foster our self-indulgence about how great we once were.

We also use education as a political football. It is not about what is best for the child and the nation but what mirrors different ideological views of how society should look.

To that extent it is not liberating but suffocating. It is also, and here I do see Mr Gove's point, divisive. But before we tear down the Berlin Wall, which was, remember, all about keeping people in, not people out, we need to agree on what our children should be educated.

That I fear may be more difficult, as we are still a divided society. And still we make silly mistakes in chasing some dream of what is education. We have recently seen the Barnfield Federation and its one time leader Sir Peter Birkett fall from grace.

He was lauded by Gove and before him Labour, as some kind of miracle worker.

At one time Sandy Upper School was going to be named after Sir Peter Birkett.

Now he has disappeared and there looks like a mess that could be very unpleasant. It is neither fair nor productive to play with the education of kids in this way.

A consensus would be good but now I am being naive, so the war of English education will continue.

Finally: if private education is so good and so liberating for you why do so many of the recipients end up as arrogant and indifferent to the rest of us?

I said that.

SHOCKING: Bonnets and headlights have been stolen from these Vauxhall Corsas in Luton and Dunstable

Cars stripped for parts by thieves

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

BONNETS and headlights have been going missing from cars in Luton and Dunstable.

Readers have contacted Luton on Sunday to share the shocking pictures of their Vauxhall Corsas which appear to have been stripped for parts by thieves.

Celine Searle, of Telscombe Way, Luton, woke up on Friday, February 1 to be confronted by the remains of her car.

She said: "When I saw it, I just burst into tears. There was no bonnet, no headlights - half of the car was missing!"

"It sounds such a funny thing to say, but they've done a really good job. They obviously know what they are doing."

A second car, also a Corsa, was targeted by thieves in Readers' Close, Dunstable, on Tuesday, February 4.

It is believed that the owner of the vehicle was on holiday at the time of the theft.

A spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Police said that they hadn't seen a spike in these kind of incidents, while Vauxhall say they are unaware of a problem with this model of car.

Happy Birthday to the L&D Hospital!

VALENTINE'S Day was a special occasion for many but for one institution in the town it was just a little more special.

Because 75 years ago, on February 14, 1939, Her Majesty Queen Mary officially opened the Luton and Dunstable hospital.

Since then, it has grown and changed significantly. The 10-acre site where the hospital currently sits was bought during the 1930s for £3,800 (£190,000 in today's money).

It was at the heart of the countryside at the time but building work began in 1937 following a series of fund-raising activities.

Now it stands as a university teaching hospital and an NHS Foundation that treats 300,000 people.

One of those who have been at the heart of the L&D is Janet Graham MBE, who retired in 2008 after serving for 40 years as a nurse.

She now looks after the hospital's historical archives along with her husband John.

What changes has she seen

The Luton & Dunstable Hospital has just celebrated its 75th anniversary. CARL MUNGAZI spoke to the L&D's historian to find out how things have changed at the hospital?

She said: "I think technology has changed. When you look at the photos of the early x-ray machines and then you compare with the ones we have now, you see the change.

"Another of the biggest changes is the number of patients that we are now treating. Now we treat thousands more patients than we did back then."

The L&D has seen increases in many departments since its inception. For example, in 1948 staff conducted 3,100 surgical operations - last year it was 17,000.

How have staff managed to cope with such an increased workload?

Mrs Graham said: "I think the principles of care for patients and putting them first is what the hospital is still all about.

"It's interesting that the early press cuttings (about the hospital) were saying that there would be no waiting lists now it's there, but it's clear that people still need treating.

"When it opened there was no NHS, so we had contributions from local businesses and people and I think the hospital still survives on volunteers to help keep it running."

And the future of the L&D? "I think it's important that the community do support us as a hospital.

"I want them to realise that we have a good A&E department that has not been under threat of closure and has good departments that provide good care."

A fine conclusion for parking issue

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN AUTHORITY has cancelled 19 parking tickets that were given out in error to motorists on a closed road in Dunstable.

Last week, Luton on Sunday reported that Central Bedfordshire Council had launched an investigation after the fines were put on vehicles in Victoria Street while serious roadworks took place.

The motorists, many of whom pay for parking permits, took the decision to park on single yellow lines after the bays in the road were dug up or obstructed by work vehicles.

The authority has now confirmed that each of the 19 tickets has been cancelled and should never have been given out in the first place.

In an email to residents, ward councillor, Carole Hegley said: "I am pleased to report that there has been further consideration given to the residents who were penalised with parking fines - council officers will arrange to cancel the tickets for residents in lieu of the exceptional circumstances associated with the current water works in that road, and will issue a letter giving instructions on cancellation early next week.

"This does not condone illegal or irresponsible parking, so in future please ensure you park to comply with local parking restrictions in mind."

Victoria Street resident, Lisa Shepherd said: "I am pleased to hear that the parking tickets have been overturned and the residents will no longer have to pay.

"A few residents are in discussion with the council about changing the parking restrictions long term. Let's hope a situation like this doesn't arise again."

Harry steps out at the Emirates

LUCKY seven-year-old Harry Tagg was chosen at random from more than 30,000 young Arsenal fans to be the mascot for their Premier League match against Manchester United last week.

Being a member of Arsenal's supporters' club gave Harry, from Luton, the once in a lifetime chance of walking the squad out onto the pitch for kick-off at the Emirates Stadium.

He also got to meet some of his heroes ahead of the game, including former Luton Town youngster Jack Wilshere.

Harry, who was delighted to have been selected for the match, said: "It was brilliant to be the mascot and to walk on the pitch, especially for a Premier League match against Manchester United!

"I got to meet loads of players, it was really exciting!"

HAPPY: Harry with Jack Wilshere

Professor decodes a mystery document

LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A UNIVERSITY of Bedfordshire professor has claimed to have cracked the code of a 600-year-old manuscript regarded as one of the most mysterious documents in the world.

Stephen Bax, professor of applied linguistics, has deciphered a number of words in the 15th century Voynich manuscript. Up until now the work has baffled scholars and codebreakers who have been unable to read any letter or word of the text.

Professor Bax said: "I hit on the idea of identifying proper names in the text, following historic approaches which successfully deciphered Egyptian hieroglyphs and other mystery scripts.

BREAKTHROUGH: Professor Stephen Bax and the Voynich manuscript

"The manuscript has illustrations of stars and plants. I was able to identify some of these, with their names, by looking at medieval herbal manuscripts in Arabic and other languages, and I then made a start on a decoding." Professor Bax will discuss his findings at a lecture at the university's Luton campus on Tuesday at 6pm.

On your marks for sport awards

THE nominations are in, and now the public vote for the Luton's Sport Awards is open!

The prestigious event, which is organised by the Luton Sports Network and supported by Luton Borough Council and Luton on Sunday, aims to recognise the success of sports men and women in the town.

This year, the winner of both the Young Volunteer of the Year and the Contribution to Disabled Sport categories will be chosen by you, our readers.

After reading the nominations below, just head over to www.luton-dunstable.co.uk, where you will be able to vote.

Young Volunteer of the Year

■ Luke Davis, 15, started as a volunteer several years ago, generally helping at Luton Swimming Club. Two years ago Luke started his Duke of Edinburgh bronze award, assisting academy and squads. He is still coaching six hours a week and is about to start his Level 1 coaching qualification.

■ Emily Forster, 13, has worked for two seasons at the youth and mini and girls' section of Luton Town Rugby Football Club. Every week she makes sure all coaches have their first aid kits as well as balls and bibs. Emma also helps the preparation and serving of match day food for up to 200 children.

■ Natasha Ward, 14, coaches four to five year olds at Wigmore Primary School every week. After her own school day, she changes into her PE kit, walks up to the school ready to coach whatever the weather. Natasha has been described as a 'credit to the school' and a leader.

■ Esther Ackah, 15, also coaches four to five year olds at Wigmore Primary School every Thursday evening. Esther is a 'gold ambassador' for Luton, a role she takes seriously. She is also setting up a club at Ashcroft High School.

■ Lawrence Palmer has been a volunteer swimming coach at Putteridge Swimming Club for a year. He teaches four sessions a week and accompanies the children to galas, while still training and competing himself. The majority of his junior performance squad have qualified for county championships.

DELIVERY: The donated goodies arrive

Food donation will provide 500 meals for the hungry

STAFF at NOAH Enterprise were delighted when First Capital Connect announced it was donating £120 worth of Sainsbury's vouchers to the charity - and even more so when the supermarket chain's Bury Park branch agreed to match it.

Three of the Luton-based NOAH staff carried out a supermarket sweep-style challenge to see how much they could get for their money and ended up clearing the store's freezer section.

Rob Adamek, of NOAH, said: "The food will make over 500 meals which will be served to those who would otherwise go hungry."

Drug courier has appeal rejected

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A DRUG courier jailed after he admitted testing and transporting heroin worth up to £600,000 has failed to convince judges his sentence is too long.

Nikki John O'Dell, 36, of Sycamore Road, Houghton Regis, had almost two kilos of packaged heroin when he was stopped by police last May.

He admitted conspiracy to supply the Class A drug and was jailed for four years and eight months at Luton Crown Court in September.

On Wednesday he appealed but three senior judges said he deserved every day of the sentence for such a serious crime. The court heard he was caught after he was seen leaving a house in Ingram Gardens, Luton, which police had under surveillance.

He left in a van, following another dealer, Gulfraz Parvaz, who was in a BMW.

Parvaz was found to have £56,000 in cash, while O'Dell was found to be transporting a batch of drugs in the van. He admitted to being a drugs courier and tester, having had a long-standing heroin addiction.

Mr Justice Griffith Williams said there were 'no arguable grounds that this sentence was manifestly excessive'.

Parvaz, who was jailed for six years, was not involved in the hearing.

A marathon year for manager Ben

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN is set to take on 11 marathons in less than a year – all in the name of charity.

Ben Hunt, who is assistant manager at Luton Hoo Hotel, Golf & Spa will run more than 120 miles between March and December to raise money on behalf of charities including Luton-based Keech Hospice and the Meningitis Trust.

To date, Ben has raised more than £3,000 on behalf of the charities and since his first run last July, he has been well and truly bitten by the running bug.

Ben said: "After sadly losing a friend 20 years ago to

DETERMINED: Runner Ben Hunt meningitis and recently experiencing another friend losing his 19-month-old daughter to the illness, I felt that I really wanted to do something to make a difference and decided that I would take part in the Great North Run.

"I started running at the beginning of last July, building up slowly and working on improving my techniques over the next two to three months.

"After completing the race in under two hours I was determined to carry on and since then I have continued my training.

"I am really looking forward to raising money on behalf of some very worthy charities."

Ben's next race will be the Reading Half Marathon on Sunday, March 2.

Force has adapted to severe cuts to budget

THIS week's guest columnist, Police and Crime Commissioner Olly Martins, explains how the force will overcome budget cuts

RESIDENTS and business in Bedfordshire want a police force that is visible and responsive to them. That is what they expect and that is what I believe we can deliver.

The need for confidence in policing remains the same whatever the financial challenges policing faces – which is why I am determined to make the best possible use of our resources.

We all know that reduced funding has led to tightening of belts in forces throughout the UK. The Government has cut £15m from our police budget since 2010 and now we will need to find a further £8.5m in the next two years.

That is a bitter pill to swallow but I am confident that measures we have already taken together with the plans we have for the future will help us to keep our communities safe.

We have recently recruited 80 new officers to our frontline and we will soon be reaping the benefits of increased joint working with neighbouring police forces.

Our investment in new technology will help our officers to work more effectively wherever they are, adding to their visibility. Aware of the call for greater visibility, last year I increased the police portion of the council tax to help fund my decision to reverse the previous Police Authority's planned 33 per cent cut to the number of Police Community Support Officers (PCSOs). We are also reviewing the role of our PCSOs with a view to increasing their presence in our neighbourhoods.

This year, I recommended a modest increase to help fund our plans to double the number of Specials in support of our frontline.

Although the Specials are volunteers there is nonetheless a cost to be met, including uniform, equipment and training. Specials have been around for over a century and play a significant role in boosting the visible policing across the whole county.

My recommendation – approved by the Police and Crime Panel – amounts to about 6p a week for a Band D household.

Bedfordshire's budget for policing in 2014-15 is £101.691m compared with £102.877m last year of which £71.3m comes from the government and the remainder from the contribution you pay towards policing through council tax.

Although the government offered a grant worth one per cent of the budget to freeze council tax at the current rate this would have left our police force short of the funds needed to maintain police officer strength.

While funding is not going to get any easier in the near future I am heartened at the way our force's officers and staff have shown themselves able to adapt, in difficult times, to meeting the needs of local people.

Turning your home into cash - FAST.

In these days of recession, homeowners are sitting on a valuable asset – but because of the state of the economy, selling up in the usual way can be difficult and time-consuming.

We hear how one couple found a way of turning bricks and mortar into money in the bank with a cash purchase from webuyanyhome.com

Paul and Lesley Henderson, a retired engineer and his wife, turned to webuyanyhome.com earlier this year. They found themselves in a difficult situation, and needed to quickly turn the value in their home, into ready cash.

Paul Henderson takes up the story: "Our circumstances changed really fast, for various reasons, and we needed to get our hands on a certain amount of money as quickly as we could. We knew we didn't stand a chance with the usual finance options, but we were luckier than some because we knew we had money in the house.

"But just trying to sell it like you usually would wasn't an option. For a start, there's all the hassle of dealing with estate agents, which can be a right pain. And then there's the time it takes, I think you're lucky to sell in six months these days."

Lesley continues: "We couldn't afford to take six weeks, never mind six months, so we were happy to listen when we heard about webuyanyhome.com.

"We got a figure for a cash payment offered the same day we called them – a bit less than the market rate, but we expected that – and someone came out to see the house the day after. All nice and friendly, they explained everything, and they told us they'd help us to find a solicitor and pay all the legal fees – that's the deal.

"Four weeks later, there was the cash sitting in the bank. I can't tell you how relieved we were to be free of all the pressure and worry, and now we've got everything sorted out.

"This really was the ideal answer for us – and if anyone's in the same situation, I wouldn't hesitate to say 'go for it'."

Riviera romp that ticks all the boxes of a cracking comedy crime caper

DIRTY ROTTEN SCOUNDRELS

Aylesbury Waterside Theatre - 0844 871 7627
Wednesday-Saturday

WE could all do with a spot of Riviera sunshine at the moment, says JUDY RILEY. But if there's precious little chance of hopping on a flight to Nice then the next best thing must be an evening in the company of a bunch of Dirty Rotten Scoundrels.

Jeffrey Lane and David Yazbek's upbeat musical adaptation of the 80's movie that starred Michael Caine and Steve Martin is slipping into Aylesbury Waterside Theatre like a thief in the night.

After just six performances there, this show will be heading straight into the West End. And, if audience reaction so far is anything to go by, it won't be busting out in a hurry.

Holiday Love Rats have nothing on Lawrence Jameson (Robert Lindsay) and Freddie Benson (Rufus Hound). These two will stick at nothing to coax, cheat and con their way through the hearts and purses of lonely women with more money than sense.

Jameson has made his fortune pretending to be an exiled member of some ambiguously obscure royal family (cue Lindsay's excellent Prince Charles sound-a-like party piece). He's suave and sophisticated and a swindler through and through. He's also getting a little bored. So when Benson, a small-time crook from Hicksville, USA turns up with his limp 'I need funds to pay for my granny's operation' porkies, Jameson assumes the role of a Professor Higgins mentor, bent on creating his very own Pygmalion in a My Fair Con Man sort of way.

Just as the young cub will eventually challenge the supremacy of the lion king, so it's not long before D-list fraudster Freddie threatens to topple Lawrence from his position as the French Riviera's Alpha male rotter.

SUN, SEA AND SWINDLES:
Robert Lindsay and Rufus Hound are the bad boys of Beaumont sur Mer

But the bad boys of Beaumont sur Mer don't have it all their own way. In Samantha Bond as Muriel Eubanks, Lizzie Connolly as Jolene Oaks and Katherine Kingsley as Christine Colgate, there are three terrifically strong female characters who look amazing, act impressively and sing magnificently.

For a new musical to be successful there has to be a number of elements in place: strong plot, catchy score, witty dialogue, design with the wow factor, a little bit of love, a starry cast and a director who can spot a winner from across the Atlantic.

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels has the lot.

Director Jerry Mitchell always sprinkles magic stardust on his shows. Robert Lindsay reclaims the musical stage like he'd never been away and Rufus Hound is funny and loveable even when he's being a snake and a scumbag. Come awards night next year, these scoundrels will run away with the goods.

Travel in time and have a few laughs with comedy duo

COMEDY

The Grove Theatre
Today, 2pm

GET ready for an action-packed time travelling tale as Andy & Mike's... Tick Tock Time Machine lands at the Grove Theatre today at 2pm.

Following their smash-hit show, Andy and Mike's... Big Box of Bananas, the dynamic duo bring you another brilliant adventure, and this time they have a time machine.

Whilst playing in the garden of their 'fun pad', they discover a door that was locked many years ago by their great, great, great grandfather Wally Bum.

Inside they find many inventions and a mysterious time machine.

The time machine sends them on a quest to collect the things they need from the past and the future to help a very old Andy in the future.

Will they make it back to the 'here and now' or be trapped in the mists of time forever?

One thing's for sure; they haven't a chance without your help.

Comedy duo Andy Day and Mike James have known each other since they were 10 years-old and they quickly bonded over a love of performing.

CBeebies presenter Andy and BAFTA nominated best pal, Mike, became a huge hit nationally after bringing their live show, Andy and Mike's... Big Box of Bananas, to the stage in 2010.

Tickets are £12 for adults and £10 for children. Family tickets are £40 for a group of two children and two adults.

To purchase call 01582 602080.

Want to be in wonderland?

THEATRE

The Grove Theatre
April 18-April 21

FOLLOWING on from last year's production of Dick Whittington, Magic Beans Pantomimes are back again at the Grove Theatre with another treat for the whole family.

They will be putting on a production of Alice in Wonderland. However, there's an added bonus this time.

Magic Beans are giving you the chance to dance alongside the stars of the show.

If you fancy starring alongside Steve Hewlett (Britain's Got Talent) and magician Paul Daniels and his assistant Debbie McGee in this Easter pantomime, then make your way to the open auditions.

They will be held on March 2 at the Grove Theatre.

So if you're aged 6 or over, this could be your chance to take part in a pantomime production of Alice in Wonderland.

The dance auditions will be held at separate times.

The first category is juvenile dancers aged 6-11 (max height 4'5") and registration for this starts at 10am, with auditions taking place from 10.30am - 12pm.

The next category will be for juvenile intermediate dancers aged 10-15 years (max height 5'5"). Registration for this opens at 12pm, with auditions taking place from 12.30pm until 2pm.

Lastly, senior dancers aged 15 plus (max height 5'8") register at 2pm and have their auditions at 2.30pm until 3.30pm.

You don't need to register beforehand or prepare anything - all you need to do is come along.

Tickets for Alice in Wonderland will cost £18, with discounts for Friends of the Grove Theatre, concessions and wheelchair users.

Family tickets (group of 4, minimum 1 adult) are £65.

Tickets can be purchased from the box office on 01582 602080 or online at www.grovetheatre.co.uk.

The show will be at the Grove Theatre for a short period only from April 18-21.

Connells News

Connells launches Two New Homes sites this weekend

Connells Estate Agency in Luton are delighted to announce the official launch of 67 new homes across two local developments this weekend. Both respective launch events will be held on Saturday and Sunday 22nd and 23rd February at Base Point, Butterfield Green, Stopsley, Luton from 10am until 4pm, inviting prospective buyers to come and view details of the fantastic, brand new properties on offer.

Challney Gardens and Farley Meadows are both registered with the Government's Help to Buy scheme which has been a real driving force in the rejuvenation of the UK property market since its arrival back in April last year. With Connells reporting a shortage of housing supply both locally and nationwide, these latest new homes developments in Luton offer a great chance for potential home buyers to purchase a wonderfully designed property at a competitive price.

Connells Regional Director of Land and New Homes, Trevor Hill is really excited about the opportunity these homes present to buyers, especially those who are looking to make a purchase using the Help to Buy initiative: "Challney Gardens and Farley Meadows are magnificent new developments which I don't expect to be on the market for long," he says. "It's brilliant that the developer Catalyst Housing, have registered the homes with the Help to Buy scheme because this will open the properties up to an even wider range of buyers. Catalyst built previously in Luton at Wigmore Fields and Viewpoint and both schemes were very popular and highly successful," he says.

Help to Buy enables buyers to purchase a new build property worth up to £600,000 with a five-year, interest-free Government loan for up to 20% of the value of the property. This means buyers may need only a 5% deposit to purchase a brand new home. It also means they can potentially afford a larger property which will fulfil their needs for a longer time period rather than having to upsize again a few years down the line.

With two, three and four bedroom properties on offer at Challney Gardens and two and 3 bedroom properties at Farley Meadows, each home is finished to an impeccable standard and offer fine attention to detail throughout.

On the market from £170,000 Trevor believes the affordable pricing of these houses will drive up interest from buyers: "The prices of these homes are really affordable. New homes in and around Luton are scarce at the moment so with such competitive pricing at these developments buyers are really getting a great deal," says Trevor.

If you would like more information on either launch event at Challney Gardens or Farley Meadows, or more information about Help to Buy call Connells in Luton on 01582 450 999 or email luton@connells.co.uk

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

- Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.
- Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.
- Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.
- Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.
- Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details

Start off with your full name, address, home and mobile phone numbers and email address. If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile

This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

Education and qualifications

List your qualifications and education history, with the most recent first. You don't need to list the grades for each exam you have passed unless they were exceptional results - simply listing the number and type of exams you've passed is fine. Also, list any relevant professional organisations you belong to and training courses you have been on.

Work experience

Start with your most recent position and work backwards, giving addresses along with start and finish dates. Set out your main responsibilities, duties and most importantly achievements, along with any skills you picked up or improvements you made while you were there. This is a really important section in your CV so make it count - but don't waffle.

If you have not had a full-time job before, detail any part-time jobs you may have held or any placement you have been on.

Other skills

Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies

Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References

Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be.

If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

- Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.
- Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.
- Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.
- Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

No wonder you love paper

Did you know that forests in Europe, which provide wood for making into paper and many other widely used materials, are 30% larger than in 1950? In fact they're increasing by 1.5 million football pitches every year.†

If you love reading your favourite newspaper, isn't it good to know that it's made from natural and renewable wood.

CELEBRATIONS: Scorers Jake Howells and Luke Guttridge can't conceal their delight

Hatters continue to

SKRILL PREMIER
NUNEATON TOWN
LUTON TOWN 0 5

BY TOM SHARP
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town extended their Skriff Premier supremacy to eleven points after a crushing 5-0 win over Nuneaton in front of a record-breaking crowd at Liberty Way.

A crowd of 3,480, the most through the turnstiles since Nuneaton's ground move in 2008, bared witness to another virtuoso Andre Gray performance as he struck once and supplied Paul Benson's first and Luke Guttridge's 70th-minute smash either side of half-time.

Benson's second, a trademark 81st-minute diving header and Jake Howells' own pinpoint header, Luton's twelfth in just two games without reply, wrapped up the points in style.

Before the Hatters' eventual 3-0 win over the home side a month ago, Town were just one point clear of Cambridge with the U's holding a game in hand. Now that margin stands in double figures. One game closer to a return to the Football League promised land and another handsome win to add to the rest over yet another top six side. The Town juggernaut is showing no sign of relenting.

The boisterous 1800-strong away following were optimistic despite cheekily taunting last week's hat-trick hero Gray following a couple of routine misses during the pre-match warm-up.

Gray, along with the rest of the imperious Hatters in that seven-goal demolition of Hereford United, were entrusted with steering the league leaders towards another three points as manager John Still named an unchanged side.

The hosts' task was that bit more daunting with the absence of top scorer Louis Moult, confined to the bench with a thigh strain, but having climbed to fourth in the table and on the back of just three defeats in 16 home encounters Boro' had reasons to be optimistic.

Sadly for them, that optimism would not last very long. Nuneaton's no-nonsense style has been a feature of their rise from relegation strugglers to play-off chasers and it was the Warwickshire side that shaded the opening ten minutes.

Wes York had glory in his sights when faced with just Mark Tyler but the veteran Hatters shot-stopper saved well at the pacy frontman's feet. The potent league leaders were yet to purr but Howells' 17th minute half volley almost awoke their stupor.

Home keeper James Belshaw touched over the bar though to the relief of the Nuneaton supporters. Moments later, Gray looked to have taken the Town supporters' jibes to heart.

Dees and Stockwood Park undone as Luton rest

RUGBY UNION

BY TIM BARTLETT
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

DUNSTABLIANS were beaten 13-5 on the road at Leicester Forest RFC in Midlands 2 East (South) yesterday, in a 'forwards orientated' game.

The pitch had quite a gradient," said Dees outside centre Matt Reed. "Both packs took full advantage of that, pushing downhill."

Travelling Dees support had just the one try to celebrate, with Dwayne Hughes-Brand crossing the white-wash for the visitors.

"Our season is in danger of petering out," said Reed, with Dees sitting mid-table, 20 points clear of trouble, whilst 40 short of a league play-off position.

"I think it was clear that there was a difference between how important today was for both teams, they're fighting for survival in this division, they were more fired up."

The Dees travel to Northampton Old Scouts next weekend, a side seated just below them in the table.

In Midlands 3 East (South) STOCKWOOD PARK travelled to Daventry yesterday and were beaten 41-22 in a game that could have gone either way.

"We were unlucky not to snatch that," said club President Jason Carr. "Our effort levels were immense, we were camped on their line when a refereeing decision went against us, they broke and scored which effectively killed the game."

Stockwood remain fourth in the league, though

Daventry have now closed to within a point and the clubs above them are possibly out of sight now.

"I think promotion might be a big ask looking at the table now," said Carr.

LUTON RFC enjoyed a rest weekend, though their London One North rivals didn't, and both Westcliff and Eton Manor won their games to open up an eight-point gap between the top three, with Luton sat third. With the top two still to play Luton this season, things couldn't be tighter.

"Eton and Westcliff have suffered from injury of late, and I think some of their results have reflected that," said Nick Rhodes, Luton's Backs Coach. "Although their key players are coming back, so are ours, for the first time this season we're picking from a full card."

Luton travel to Diss next weekend.

HIGH FIVES: Paul Benson celebrates with delighted Hatters supporters.

Pictures: Gareth Owen

march towards the title

Twelve yards out and the ball bouncing invitingly, he scuffed tamely wide. Not signs of the Gray that smashed a hat-trick against Boro last month but that would change.

Luton's top scorer might have temporarily mis-placed his goal-scoring know-how but in the 33rd minute he proved he had not lost his touch.

A clever flick set strike partner Benson through on Belshaw and despite a half-block, the ball rolled kindly for the Swindon Town loanee to side-foot into the unguarded net and send the travelling fans into hysteria.

"One-nil to the champions" warmed the chilly Midlands air. Keen to add to his tally, Benson almost finished off a superb team move but his volley flashed wide.

A two-goal half-time cushion would have been harsh on Nuneaton. Especially after being frustrated by a penalty-box scramble in Town's box seconds before half time.

The first period may have not hit the heights expected from a top-versus-fourth clash but a lively start to the second raised temperatures.

Gray twice looked like he had breached the Nuneaton back-line but was foiled once by adequate defending and also by a rogue offside flag from the referee's assistant when driving menacingly towards goal.

Fairly toothless in attack Nuneaton threw on Moulton in the 57th minute bidding to halt Luton's runaway challenge but it was the visitors that struck again to seal the points.

Guttridge nonchalantly tricked full-back Theo Streete and supplied Gray with a perfect far-post ball that could not be missed. His ninth goal in four games.

As Boro looked to salvage something by throwing on yet another striker in David Hibbert, they were superbly picked off by ruthless offence.

First Guttridge slammed home from twelve yards and by the 84th minute it was four and five as Benson and Howells both headed home, assisted by substitute Jon Shaw.

Not quite seven like last week but not bad nonetheless...

Nuneaton - Belshaw; Delfouneso (Hibbert, 74), Cowans, Dean (capt), Streete; Taylor (Moulton, 57), Armson, Walker (Trainer, 79), Sleath; Brown, York. Subs not used - Gordon, Adams.

Luton - Tyler; Henry, Franks, McNulty, Griffiths; Guttridge (Robinson 87), McGeehan, Ruddock, Howells; Benson (Shaw, 83), Gray (Lawless, 84). Subs not used - Charles, Justham.

JOB DONE: John Still

Slough run riot against Town and Rovers lose it late on

LOCAL FOOTBALL

BY MATT DESAI

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

DUNSTABLE Town slipped to their fourth straight defeat as they were hammered 4-0 away to Southern League Division One Central promotion rivals Slough Town on Saturday.

The visitors were reduced to ten men inside the first ten minutes, when debutant Kyle Anthony was sent off for a high tackle.

Facing an uphill task, things got worse for The Blues when minutes later the hosts opened the afternoon's scoring, Ed Smith reacting the quickest after Scott Harris' strike was parried.

The Rebels continued to apply the pressure, Smith again coming close, and they finally doubled their lead on the stroke of half-time when Ryan Parsons pounced on a defensive slip and buried his right-footed effort into the bottom corner.

A man down and two goals behind, Dunstable were struggling to offer anything, and their hosts all but sealed the win shortly after the break when James McClurg teed up Smith for his second of the game, after good play from brothers Scott and Warren Harris. Minutes later, they added a fourth, with Scott Harris heading home from substitute Darren Wheeler's pinpoint corner, to round off a convincing victory.

The result closes the gap between the two sides to six points, but crucially, now leaves The Blues five points behind league leaders Rugby Town.

Elsewhere in the league, BARTON ROVERS conceded twice in the last 15 minutes of their match to lose 2-1 at home to Daventry Town.

The hosts started brightly and almost took the lead early on, but Joe Reynolds's shot was tipped wide by 'keeper Richard Morris.

It wasn't long before Rovers did make their early dominance count though, and on twenty minutes forward Jermaine Hall put them a goal up.

Moments before the break, Daventry squandered the chance to draw level from the spot, after Liam McDevitt saw red for deliberate handball, but Kyle Forster saved the resulting penalty.

With fifteen minutes remaining, Town began to turn the screw, and strikes from James Husband and Ashley Robinson quickly turned the game on its head, ensuring all three points went back to Northamptonshire.

Elsewhere, AFC DUNSTABLE ran out 2-0 winners in their Spartan South Midlands Premier clash at home to Harefield United.

Another thrashing but the job is still not done

RAMPANT: Paul Benson dives to head home yesterday. Hatters are 11 points clear. Picture: Gareth Owen

BY TOM SHARP
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

HATTERS boss John Still maintains that "the job is still not done" despite thrashing play-off chasing Nuneaton 5-0 to move further clear at the top of the Skrill Premier yesterday

Andre Gray, Luke Guttridge, Jake Howells and Paul Benson's brace emphatically reaffirmed Luton's tight grip on the league and in the process extended their unbeaten run to 23 matches as they sent yet another warning shot to their promotion rivals.

Once more Still was quick to dismiss any thoughts of the P word but he praised his side for more merciless finishing. "We are doing well but we are still here to do a job," said Still after the game.

"As you say we have beaten the likes of Alfreton 5-0 and they are up and around the play-offs just like Nuneaton but we are only doing what we have strived to do all season.

"The job is not done yet and we know we have to keep working hard. If my players keep playing like that every week though we will not have much to worry about."

Yesterday's demolition job followed the 7-0 win over Hereford last weekend and it is the margin and manner of the Hatters' victories which have many excited.

Predictably man of the moment Gray, a player familiar with Nuneaton having been plucked by Town from neighbouring club Hinckley United in 2012, incurred much of Still's acclaim after notching his 50th goal in 97 games for the club.

"That is a great record and I am really, really pleased for Andre," said the Hatters' chief. "He never let his head go down."

"I remember him coming in my office one day and saying 'what do I need to do?'"

"I just said to him 'do what you do' and from there he has worked so hard and got himself back into the team and I cannot fault him for his work rate and discipline.

"His goal today was a tap-in but they all count and I would be delighted if he carried on doing that for us until the end of the season.

"Great strikers make a living out of scoring all-sorts of goals and he is one of them."

Still will hope Gray can bag another hat-trick on Tuesday as Luton play host to the last team to condemn them to a league defeat over five months ago, Wrexham.

"I made mistakes and picked the wrong team on that night in September but that is forgotten now," said Still.

"We just want another three points to put more pressure on everyone else.

"That is our sole goal and we hope for another good atmosphere."
